RA Eligibility Requirements 2013-2014

The RA position is open only to individuals who meet ALL of these criteria:

- Full-time Roosevelt University student (at least 12 credits for undergraduates, 9 credits for
- graduate students) with a 2.75 minimum cumulative GPA
- Must have completed at least 24 undergraduate credit hours by the end of Spring 2013
- In good judicial standing within the University and Residence Life. You may not be on active
- housing or University probation. If you have been found responsible for any policy
- violations, eligibility will be left to the discretion of Residence Life professional staff.
- Must have residence hall / community living experience for at least one semester
- Must commit to maintaining the RA role through the entire 2013-2014 academic year
- Financial need is NOT a consideration for employment
- NOTE: RAs are not guaranteed the option of working another job. On average, RAs spend about 20 hours per week on their duties. Based on individual circumstances, some RAs are allowed to work up to 10 hours per week in another job, at the discretion of the Office of Residence Life professional staff. Such employment must be pre-approved by Residence Life, and cannot take priority over the expectations of the RA job. Student employment regulations do not allow RAs to be employed in other student or work-study jobs.

Consider applying for the RA position if you…

- Have a good understanding of the RA position and what it entails
- Have a desire to lead a community of residents in developing their floor and hall to be an inclusive, safe, and welcoming environment for all students and their unique differences
- Can demonstrate leadership potential through previous leadership experiences, recommendations, staff evaluations, and observation through the selection process
- Can demonstrate an advanced level of maturity exhibited in sound judgment, emotional stability, flexibility, willingness to accept responsibility, understanding and appreciation of diverse cultures, and commitment to equal opportunity and affirmative action
- Can demonstrate solid interpersonal skills through proven ability to interact effectively with others and observation through the selection process
- Are in good conduct standing with the University and Residence Life
- Possess strong oral and written communication skills
- Are flexible and willing to handle a wide variety of tasks in a detail oriented fashion
- Can demonstrate your ability to be creative, organized, and handle the stress of working on several tasks simultaneously
- Are self-motivated, self-confident, and resourceful, and willing to work as a team member
- Possess problem-solving and decision-making abilities