

Roosevelt University

Department of History and Philosophy Spring 2010 History Course Guide

- HIST 106 THE UNITED STATES TO 1865
22094 TU TH 2:00 PM-3:15 PM Rung, M. Chicago
22096 M 6:30 PM-9:00 PM Truckenbrod, T. Schaumburg
Survey of main currents in development of American institutions and values through the Civil War.
- HIST 107 THE UNITED STATES SINCE 1865
26361 TU TH 9:30 AM-10:45 AM Gellman, E. Chicago
27094 TU 6:00 PM-8:30 PM Salzman, J. Chicago
22097 TU TH 12:30 PM-1:45 PM Wilson, A. Schaumburg
Survey of main currents in development of American institutions and values from Civil War to present.
- HIST 111 THE WORLD TO 1500
22518 TU TH 12:30 PM-1:45 PM Anderson-Cobb, N. Chicago
22377 M W 9:30 AM-10:45 AM Staff Schaumburg
World history from the beginnings of civilizations to the age of discovery, covering several major regions of the world: Southwest Asia, East and South Asia, Europe, Africa, and the Americas. Comparison of the civilizations in these regions and contacts between them. Emphasis on social organization, ideas, technologies, and culture.
- HIST 112 THE WORLD SINCE 1500
22519 M W 12:30 PM-01:45 PM Chulos, C. Chicago
22520 TU 6:30 PM-9:00 PM Prado, F. Schaumburg
27097 Lingenfelter, S. Online
Major themes and topics in world history from the age of discovery to the present. Comparison of the civilizations of Southwest Asia, East and South Asia, Europe, Africa, and the Americas. Emphasis on social organization, ideas, technologies, and culture.
- HIST/AFS 229-01 AFRICAN-AMER HISTORY:1877-PRES
23352 TU TH 9:30 AM-10:45 AM Staff Chicago
Prerequisites: University Writing Requirement MET
Survey of the African-American experience in America with attention to culture and participation in widespread social and political movements. See Afs 229.
- HIST/AFS 280-24 TOP:SLAVERY IN NORTH AMER HIST
22995 TU 6:30 PM-9:00 PM Frink, S. Schaumburg
Prerequisites: University Writing Requirement MET
Introduction to historiography and methodology of a specific topic; the nature of interpretation and various schools of thought on the topic. Experience in reading and interpreting primary sources, such as written documents, photographs, oral history, and quantitative data. The topic to be explored in this course is slavery in North American history.
- HIST 306-10/406-10 THE WORLD SINCE 1945
26244/23806 W 6:00 PM-8:30 PM Anderson-Cobb, N. Chicago
Prerequisites: HIST 112 with a min grade of C or HIST 107 with a min grade of C
Main currents in development of global institutions and values from 1945 to present.
- HIST 310-24/410-24 EUROPE FROM ABSOLUTISM-REVOL
27098/27099 W 6:30 PM-9:00 PM Chamberland, C. Schaumburg
Prerequisites: HIST 112 with a min grade of C
Absolutism and the Scientific Revolution; social and cultural trends; and the growth of European overseas empires.

HIST 317-10/417-10 THE FRENCH REVOL & NAPOLEON
26891/26892 TH 6:00 PM-8:30 PM Johnson, M. Chicago
Prerequisites: HIST 112 with a min grade of C
Examination of the collapse of the Old Regime and the course of revolution; Napoleonic era; and impact of revolution on Europe and World.

HIST 325-20/425-20 DIPLOMATIC HISTORY OF THE U.S.
27102/27103 M W 2:00 PM-3:15 PM Wilson, A. Schaumburg
Prerequisites: HIST 106 with min grade of C or HIST 107 with min grade of C or POS 201 with min grade of C
Development of American foreign relations from American Revolution to the present. Topics include manifest destiny and expansionism; imperialism of the 1890s; US rise to global power in the 20th century; and the end of the Cold War. Emphasis on diplomacy in the war on terror and contemporary foreign policy. See Pos 325.

HIST 333-24/433-24 US CIVIL WAR & RECONSTRUCTION
27147/27148 TH 6:30 PM-9:00 PM Reed, C. Schaumburg
Prerequisites: HIST 106 with a min grade of C or HIST 107 with a min grade of C
The causes of the Civil War; the interrelationship between government and partisan politics; the advent of central state authority; the role of slavery; and the controversies surrounding Reconstruction.

HIST 341-01/441-01 TOPICS: TUDOR-STUART ENGLAND
27145/27146 TU 2:00 PM-4:30 PM Chamberland, C. Chicago
Prerequisites: HIST 112 with a min grade of C
Topics may include class formations and divisions, intellectual currents, nationalism, unification, and revolutionary upheavals.

HIST/SPAN 342-01/442-01 TOPICS: LATIN AM REBELS, SMUGGLERS, PIRATES
27185/27186 M W 11:00 AM-12:15 PM Prado, F. Chicago
Prerequisites: HIST 111 with a min grade of C or HIST 112 with a min grade of C
This course is an introduction to the Colonial and Early National Latin America history. Through the analysis of rebellions, revolutions, and piracy, we will examine how subaltern groups played significant roles in shaping State formation, political culture, and social values in Latin America.

HIST 353-01 AMERICA TRANSFORMED: 1929-1945
26893 TU TH 11:00 AM-12:15 PM Rung, M. Chicago
Prerequisites: HIST 107 with a min grade of C
The tumultuous years from the Great Depression through World War II; emphasis on social, political, and cultural history.

HIST 371-01/471-01 MODERN & CONTEMPORARY AFRICA
26896/26897 TU TH 4:30 PM-5:45 PM Anderson-Cobb, N. Chicago
Prerequisites: HIST 112 with a min grade of C or HIST 240 with a min grade of C
The rise of nationalism; end of colonialism; rise of neo-colonialism; Cold War influences; managing the problems of independence. See Afs 371.

HIST 383-01/483-01 HIST & POLITICS OF WOMEN IN US
26894/26895 M W 2:00 PM-3:15 PM Frink, S. Chicago
Prerequisites: HIST 106 with a min grade of C or HIST 107 with a min grade of C
Women in the US from colonial times to the present. Emphasis on the women's rights movement and feminism, work, family, health, and education. Issues of class, race, ethnicity.

HIST/SPAN 391-20/491-20 HISTORY OF MEXICO
26898/26899 TU 2:00 PM-4:30 PM Prado, F. Schaumburg
Prerequisites: HIST 112 with a min grade of C or HIST 111 with a min grade of C
Social, economic, political and cultural development of Mexican society from its pre-Hispanic roots through Spanish conquest; independence movements; the Revolution; evolution into modern Mexican society.

HIST 428-24*TOP: READING IN US HIST TO 1877

27231

M 6:00 PM-8:30 PM

Frink, S.

Chicago

Intensive readings seminar in US history from the colonial period to the Civil War designed to prepare MA students in history for the comprehensive exam.

HIST 450-24*SEM:HISTORY, MEMORY, CINEMA

27106

TU 6:30 PM-9:00 PM

Chulos, C.

Schaumburg

The purpose of this course is to examine feature and documentary film as primary sources for the study of history and memory. Six main historical themes will be considered: war, protest and revolution, imperialism and national identity, auto/biography, everyday life, heroism. Students will study the key issues in film studies and the interaction between cinematic representations and written sources.

HIST 453-24*AMERICA TRANSFORMED: 1929-1945

26901

M 6:30 PM-9:00 PM

Rung, M.

Schaumburg

Study of the tumultuous years from the Great Depression through World War II with emphasis on social, political, and cultural history.