The Goldie B. Wolfe Miller Women Leaders in Real Estate Initiative was started in 2007 to promote women in the commercial real estate industry to achieve leadership positions. By educating, encouraging and supporting women in this industry, the goal is to prepare them for senior leadership roles in all sectors of commercial real estate. The Goldie B. Wolfe Miller Women Leaders in Real Estate Initiative provides scholarships, mentorship and networking to women in all facets of the real estate industry

Each Goldie B. Wolfe Miller Women Leaders in Real Estate Scholarship (“GWM Scholarship”) candidate is required to have a Bachelor degree awarded from an accredited United States college or university with a 3.0 grade point average on a 4.0 academic scale, a minimum of three years work experience in the commercial real estate industry or other relevant work experience in the real estate industry and it is highly recommended that all Goldie Scholar applicants should take the GMAT or GRE and those test results should be included with the application. The test results will be considered as criteria for admission along with the GPA, written essay, and interview. Applicants who take the GMAT or GRE and are then selected as Goldie Scholars will be eligible for reimbursement for the test fee. In addition each GWM Scholarship Candidate will submit an essay describing why they should be selected as GWM Scholar.
