AWARD FOR STUDENT ACTIVISM IN WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES!

The Women's and Gender Studies Program is pleased to announce its first annual award for student activism. We seek to recognize student activism that has made an impact on issues relevant to women's and gender studies.

Students may submit evidence of activist work completed during the 2012-2013 academic year. Applicants must be an undergraduate WGS minor, a WGS MA student, or a WGS Credential student.

Submission materials include

- a two-page cover letter describing the activist work in detail, its significance, and its impact; and
- evidence of the work.

Due to the variety of activist projects, the evidence for activism will vary. Evidence can include reference letters, media coverage, project documents, etc. If this activist work was done in the context of a WGS course, please provide the course title, semester of completion, and professor.

The deadline for submissions is April 15, 2013.

Applications should be emailed to Professor Ann Brigham at abrigham@roosevelt.edu by 11:59pm on April 15, 2013. Attachments must be sent in.doc, .docx, or .pdf format. In your email, please identify yourself by your first and last name, and put "Activist Award" in the subject of your email.
