Scroll down for changes to these programs, effective Fall 2013:

- Commerce and Enterprise BPS: program discontinued
- English composition: change in course names
- Finance BSBA: change in options for required Finance course
- Liberal Studies: change in course description, LBS 201
- Social Entrepreneurship BSBA: changes in course numbers of two required courses.

Commerce and Enterprise BPS degree:

The program is discontinued. Students currently enrolled in the program should contact the college to complete their degree requirements.

English Composition:

As part of changes to the English composition program, these courses are renamed:

ENG 100: Introduction to College Reading and Writing

ENG 101: Composition I: Critical Reading and Writing

ENG 102: Composition II: Introduction to Academic Research

Finance BSBA

Required Finance courses for the major are:

FIN 301 Money and Banking

FIN 312 Corporate Finance

FIN 321 Investments

One from this group:

FIN 383 Financial Markets and Institutions

FIN 385 Business Problems in Finance

FIN 387 Derivative Securities

FIN 354 International Financial Analysis

Liberal Studies:

The description for this course changes for Fall '13:

LIBS 201: Writing Social Justice: This course is devoted to writing and research on issues of social justice. Students analyze and apply theories of social justice to explore current social problems. The writing in the course will work to promote social justice inside and outside of academia.

Social Entrepreneurship BSBA

New course numbers for these required courses:

Course number for Social Entrepreneurship is MGMT 305 (formerly MGMT 390)

Course number for Social Entrepreneurship: Case Study is MGMT 306 (formerly MGMT 390). Prerequisite is MGMT 305.