...Study in Chicago

RUOnline began in 2000 with a generous grant from the McCormick Tribune Foundation. We launched our first fully online classes in 2001, and we've been growing ever since by placing students and faculty at the center of everything we do.

Testimonial from Jarvis Cook, RUOnline student, class of 2012:

Hi my name is Jarvis Cook and I attended Houston Community College System as a part-time student and completed my studies obtaining my AAS Human Resource Management in 2010. I researched several different schools online to continue my education and complete my Bachelor's degree and I decided to further my studies with Roosevelt University's fully online fast track program. I really like the Roosevelt mission statement, their vision and it's affordability. Roosevelt has a great atmosphere and flexible opportunities for a distance education student. Everyone on staff has been professional, courteous, knowledgeable, responsive and extremely friendly. I plan to graduate from Roosevelt in fall of 2012. I have enjoyed all my fast track courses and have met some really wonderful people. I would recommend Roosevelt as a great place to continue your fast track education!

Roosevelt University Student,

Jarvis Cook
Graduate Class of 2012

Additional comments from RUOnline Students:

"With the constant feedback from my professor, I feel that I am actually getting more attention than in a traditional classroom."

"The quality of interaction was terrific because there was no pretense. Everyone seemed to feel free to express themselves. I've learned a lot not only from the instructor but from the students as well. I feel the discussion boards are great, they give everyone an opportunity to express themselves."

"I felt more comfortable conversing over the internet than I would in class. I am a very shy person and stress when having to talk in front of class. This made it easier to tell people exactly what they thought of their ideas and thesis statements."

"This internet course was a lot less stressful than conventional courses and allowed me sufficient time to learn and complete materials. There was no outside peer pressure with the internet. Also, it was a lot more convenient since I work full time and care for a family too. It made the learning process smoother."
