About Triton College

Founded in 1964, Triton College is one of the more than 48 community colleges in the state of Illinois. Today, Triton's district encompasses approximately 63 square miles, and the college serves approximately 331,000 people residing in 25 demographically and culturally diverse towns and villages. Triton continues to provide high quality, accessible and cost effective opportunities for the residents it serves.

Since its inception, Triton has been a key component to the economic and workforce development infrastructure serving one of the world's largest and most vital city, Chicago. Triton's associate degrees, transfer courses, certificates, adult and continuing education, and other programs have prepared a diverse student body to be highly functioning members of the neighboring communities and region's workforce.

Triton's 101-acre facility provides staff, students and the community a traditional college campus setting including architecturally-consistent prairie style brick classroom buildings, a learning resource center, science and computer labs, athletic fields and a tree-lined commons area.
